

MCCALLUM THEATRE INSTITUTE SEEKS TEACHING ARTISTS

The McCallum Theatre Institute is currently accepting resumes from teaching artists working professionally in the fields of theatre and music who are seeking project based employment opportunities in the Coachella Valley. The ideal candidate will have a commitment to bringing the arts into educational settings as a part of their professional career.

Prior to submitting a resume, applicants are requested to review information about the McCallum Theatre Institute's Aesthetic Education Program at <http://www.mccallumtheatre.com/education/aesthetic.php> to familiarize themselves with the Institute's philosophy and approach to arts and education.

Resume submissions should include artistic accomplishments as well as teaching or other work experience and educational background along with a cover letter. The cover letter must include a statement commenting on the candidate's desire to work for the McCallum Theatre Institute and in the field of arts and education.

The McCallum Theatre Institute, established in 1997, is the education division of the McCallum Theatre for the Performing Arts. The Institute offers a spectrum of arts education programs for the desert community, including free or highly subsidized activities for more than 37,200 schoolchildren and classroom teachers annually.

Cover letters and resumes will be accepted via email or mail, and should be sent to:
